

Kresge Foundation Contributes $125,000 To YMCA Campaign

Gift Hinges On Completing Building Fund

A $125,000 donation gave a zooming start to the YMCA building fund campaign drive last night.

Announcement of the gift from the S. S. Kresge Foundation, America's third largest, brought applause from the 260 workers and committeemen gathered in the Penn-Stroud Hotel ballroom.

The Kresge contribution reduced the original $350,000 goal by 35 per cent right off the bat.

But Clifford R. Gillam, Buck Hill Falls, pointed out—the gift was conditional. Whether it is to be consummated depends on the success of workers, committeemen and county residents in raising the balance of the fund.

Gillam is chairman of the YMCA drive's special gifts committee. He read the letter just received from Amos F. Gregory, secretary of the Kresge Foundation.

"We are pleased to inform you that . . . a conditional grant of $125,000 was authorized to the Monroe County YMCA toward the construction of your new building . . ."

"This grant is conditional upon the Y raising the balance of the funds, through contributions, required to finance this building project and all costs related to this building project, as well as funds for the Barrett branch and funds to liquidate the present mortgage of $9,700, all of which is to be accomplished."

Here Gillam read carefully and with emphasis: "—within three years, or before April 1, 1956. In other words, this new building is to be free of debt on or before April 1, 1956 . . ."

The whopping grant is in addition to a previous gift of $127,300 made by the Kresge Foundation during the last YMCA fund campaign. It brings the total of foundations gifts to the Monroe County YMCA to more than a quarter of a million dollars.

The bids for the total construction program are in, but the YMCA board has until April 24 to accept these bids, Gillam pointed out.

After acceptance of the bids the exact cost of units one, two and three—the total building program—will be reported by YMCA officials. Cost is expected to be in the neighborhood of a half-million dollars, including cost for development of the Barrett branch.

Speaker for the starting dinner Emory M. Nelson, associate executive secretary of the Y international board.

He described his idea of the "seven rights of youth": The right to be well born, right to health, right to play, right to education, right to a job, right to build a happy home, and right to have a "personal Christian experience with God . . . such as Jesus."

Of thousands of juvenile delinquents he has interviewed and seen, few if any have been active Y members," he said. "Men who learn the rules of fair play on the courts of the YMCA," he declared, "carry over that fair play into their businesses."

Mr. Nelson went on, "No one knows how many thousands of boys and girls have been led to God through the YMCA."

"We are going to represent Jesus Christ to those kids . . . on the gym floor . . . in the counselling rooms . . ." he emphasized.

What worries him, Mr. Nelson said, is "how little we sacrifice for God. We give Him what is left . . ."

He went on to describe his international travels, and how Japanese, Filipinos, Germans, Russian refugees, are all sacrificing to build their YMCAs in other parts of the world.

He urged sacrifice of a similar nature, and faith in God and the cause in order that workers successfully carry out their solicitation campaign.

First official report meeting of workers will be next Monday night. The special gifts committee will hold an extra meeting at noon at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

White House Egg-Rolling Draws 30,000

Washington (AP) — Grandpa Eisenhower, his grandchildren and thousands of other kids went egg-rolling yesterday on the White House lawn.

It was the first Easter egg-roll in 12 years—and the consensus it may take another 12 years for the old place to recover.

All day the normally sedate executive mansion lawn swarmed with youngsters and adults who theoretically were there to supervise them.

When it was all over, the White House announced that, despite a rain that fell most of the afternoon, 29,972 persons came egg-rolling. Forty men immediately started picking up the two or three tons of discarded Easter baskets, broken eggs, newspapers, pop bottles and the remains of picnic lunches.

Audio-Visual Aids Funds Proposed

Harrisburg (AP) — The use of audio-visual aids in Pennsylvania schools would be greatly increased under a bill introduced last night in the house.

Sponsored by Reps. Marian E. Markley and John T. Van Sant, both Lehigh County Republicans, the measure would have the state pay subsidies to school districts for the financing of such programs.

"It's a start on a program that would make schoolwork easier to understand through modern teaching aids such as television, radio, motion pictures and slides," Mrs. Markley explained.

Under the bill, schools would be able to use the state payments to help pay for the purchase or renting of equipment and film.

Consumer To Pay Entire Sales Tax In Event General Assembly Okays Present Legislation

By Leonard A. Unger
Harrisburg (AP) — If the 1953 Legislature enacts the sales tax, the consumer will pay it fully and completely.

Under the two bills approved by the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday, the retailer will charge you the regular price for his merchandise and then add to it the 2 per cent sales tax.

Because the measures specifically earmark the tax for public schools, you will know its proceeds will help pay for a teacher's salary or something like a school text book.

If you buy something at retail for a nickel or less, don't worry about the tax. There won't be any.

But if the item costs between 6 cents and 50 cents, the tax will be 1 cent. If it costs between 51 cents and $1, the tax will be 2 cents.

For purchases costing more than $1, you will pay 1 cent for each 50 cents or fraction of that figure. An example would be the purchase of a pair of shoes for $6.95. You would pay a tax of 14 cents. The shoes would therefore cost you $7.09.

The sales tax bills, sponsored by Rep. Earl Hewitt Sr. (R-Indiana), would exempt the purchase of food for human consumption. That means you would have to pay the tax on a can of dog food.

Atomic Bomb Explodes Mile Above Nevada Testing Site

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP) — The United States' highest atomic explosion yet burst yesterday more than 5,000 feet above Nevada Proving Ground. Its radiation potential was so powerful that high-level air traffic was prohibited over a 100,000-square mile area.

There were no reports of injury or harmful effects from the explosion, fourth and largest of the Atomic Energy Commission's Spring series.

But the blast broke a big market window in downtown Las Vegas, 75 miles from Yucca Flat, site of the AEC experiment.

An AEC spokesman said the bomb, dropped from an Air Force plane, exploded at an altitude of more than 5,000 feet—well above previous air bursts here or at Pacific testing grounds. The bursts over Hiroshima and Nagasaki were at the 2,000-foot level. The previous high at Yucca Flat was 3,500 feet.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration closed all air lines above 24,000 feet for six hours over a vast area covering most of Arizona and as far east as Albuquerque, N. M.

The tremendous cloud which boiled up from the fiery burst indicated that the bomb tested was one of the larger tools in Uncle Sam's nuclear war chest.

The cloud, which rose to perhaps 50,000 feet, was blown in a southerly course by a 100-mile-an-hour wind, the AEC reported. It presumably dispersed, and there was no radiation fallout reported by ground monitoring stations in the area, the AEC said.

The detonation was so high that it kicked up comparatively little dirt from the desert floor and the usual stem to the atomic mushroom was lacking, observers at the AEC control point said. However, several test cars on the ground were set afire, they reported.

But food would include bakery products, milk, groceries, and meat. Candy and similar confectionery would not be considered food and therefore the tax would apply.

Other exemptions include gasoline and cigarettes, on which high state taxes already are in effect. Smoking and chewing tobacco, however, would be subject to the tax.

The legislation, apart from these exemptions, says the tax shall be on all "tangible personal property." In other words, professional services such as nursing, medical, legal, barbering, shoe-shining and manicuring would not be subject to the sales tax.

The sales tax also would not apply to sales of stocks, bonds, notes or other evidence of debt.

If you buy something on the installment plan, you pay the full sales tax at the outset of the purchase. There would be no other levy on the installments as you pay them.

Don't get the idea that you can go to an adjoining state and buy merchandise to avoid a Pennsylvania sales tax. The legislation, to close this loophole, calls for a 2 per cent tax on the "use and storage of tangible personal property."

In plain language, it means that

U.S. To Press For Inquiry Into Germ Warfare

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — The United States is determined to press for U. N. approval for an impartial commission to investigate Red charges of germ warfare despite the growing talk of peace echoing from Moscow.

This was disclosed yesterday by American sources as U. N. delegates, returning from the Easter recess, prepared for resumption of debate in the 60-nation Political Committee tomorrow on the bacteriological warfare issue.

The U. S. has no hope that the Iron Curtain will be lifted for a thorough investigation—peace has not gone that far, Americans here say—but the charge has been made against this country and the U. S. is insisting that the record must be kept straight.

Japanese Prince Reaches Hawaii

Honolulu (AP) — Crown Prince Akihito of Japan arrived yesterday aboard the liner President Wilson and a huge crowd of Japanese-Americans greeted him at the dock.

The 19-year-old heir apparent, en route to the coronation of Queen Elizabeth in Britain, will stop over in Hawaii for 14 hours before proceeding on to San Francisco.

Consumer To Pay Entire Sales Tax In Event General Assembly Okays Present Legislation

If you should buy an automobile in New Jersey, you will have to pay the tax when you bring it to Pennsylvania for "use and storage."

Some states pay a commission to retailers for collecting the tax. The Hewitt bills do not provide for such a commission.

Retailers will have to file a monthly returns on their sales with the revenue department. And they would not be allowed to advertise that they are absorbing the tax.

If the monthly returns show tax collections of less than $10, the retailer then can file them on a quarterly basis.

The tax would not affect sales on the wholesale level. This means a purchaser who says that he intends to re-sell the merchandise can be required to sign a statement to certify that the object is solely for resale. Otherwise, he's liable for the tax.

Violations of the law would be subject to a $1,000 fine or a year in jail.

The law would become effective on the first day of the second calendar month after the month in which it would be finally enacted. That means if the tax were passed by both the House and Senate and signed by the governor in April, you would have to start paying June 1.

Sales Tax Approved By Group

Harrisburg (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee last night approved a 2 per cent general sales tax for a vote in the House.

Earmarked for education, the levy would yield 280 million dollars—far more than the 157 millions needed to balance the commonwealth's $1,400,000,000 budget for the 1953-55 biennium.

But Chairman Wrayburn B. Hall (R-Potter), of the House Ways and Means Committee, said enactment of the sales tax would mean repeal of several so-called "nuisance" taxes such as the 1 per cent import on real estate transfers.

"Enactment of a sales tax would place us on a sound taxing basis," he told a newsmen. "It would rid us of a lot of hodge-podge taxes that have been particularly irksome."

Under the sales tax legislation, there would be no tax on a sale of 5 cents or less. On sales between 6 and 50 cents the rate would be 1 cent. The rate would be 2 cents on purchases between 51 cents and $1.

For sales beyond $1, the rate would be 1 cent for each additional 50 cents or a fraction of that amount.

Food would be exempt from the sales tax as would cigarettes, gasoline, newspapers, magazines, gas, electric, electricity, sales to the federal government, state, municipal, school district or municipality authority and beer and liquor, if sold for off-premises consumption.

The House Republican leadership braved the possibility that it may not have enough votes to push a sales tax through the lower branch in the face of solid opposition from Democrats.

The GOP membership is 109, only four more than the 105 needed to pass a tax bill. The Democratic 98-member minority has counted itself solidly against a sales tax.

But Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, replied this way to a newsmen's question as to whether the GOP has enough votes.

"I would say we have the sentiment. It was the feeling of the (GOP) caucus that now is the time to straighten out the tax affairs of the commonwealth."

Johnson said present plans call for a vote on the sales on Thursday, although there was doubt in some quarters that he would achieve that deadline.

Assembly attention was focused on the House tax action. But the Senate dug into Chesterman economy proposals, passing two bills and rejecting a third. They were among a long list of measures proposed to carry out economy recommendations of the Chesterman committee.

One of those passed, 38-6, in the form of an amendment to the State Constitution, would permit the General Assembly to place restrictions on nominations for superintendent of public instruction and provide for his removal by the governor for cause.

The other Chesterman bill passed, 34-12, would remove the superintendent of public instruction from the state council of education.

The bill defeated, 18-26, would have made the highway planning commission an advisory group in the state highways department.

Dulles Warns U.S. Facing Greatest Peril

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles told Congress yesterday the United States faces "the greatest peril in its history" and cannot stand alone, without allies, against the threat of Soviet Russia.

Dulles made the statement in opening the administration's right against proposed constitutional amendments to curb the President's treaty-making powers.

President Eisenhower has said he believes the proposed restrictions—setting up tight congressional checkreins over presidential acts with other countries—would deny him the flexibility he needs for conducting U. S. foreign policy.

Pin-pointing Eisenhower's objections, Dulles told a Senate judiciary subcommittee that the proposed amendments might make it impossible for the United States to enter a pact to outlaw war or control atomic weapons.

$211 Million Tax Package Sent To House

Harrisburg (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee yesterday approved for floor action a $211 million dollar tax package calling for continuing for another two years a host of temporary levies.

The package (with revenue estimates in parentheses) includes:

Two cents of the 5-cent gasoline tax. Three cents is already on a permanent basis ($86,900,000).

One per cent of the 50 per cent corporate net income tax. Four per cent is already on a permanent basis ($50 millions).

One per cent real estate transfer tax, with amendments to double collection commissions to county officials to 1 per cent and to require the state to pay for the bonds of these collectors ($29 millions).

Six mills of 14-mill tax on gross receipts of public utilities. Eight mills are already on a permanent basis ($10 millions).

Two per cent tax on premiums collected in state by Pennsylvania insurance companies (four millions).

The package also would postpone for another two years the exemption of Pennsylvania manufacturers from the five-mill capital stock tax to raise 50 millions.

Rail Wages To Decline Three Cents

Washington (AP) — The nation's rail workers took a three-cent hourly pay cut yesterday which will lower rail payrolls an estimated 7½ million dollars a month.

The wage reduction was dictated by the government's old-style cost-of-living index. This index, abandoned in December but revived on orders of President Eisenhower in late January, showed a 1.6 per cent drop in retail prices between November and February.

Rail wages are adjusted each three months to reflect changes in living costs. The big November-February decline, caused mainly by lower food prices, was enough to force an automatic drop of three cents in hourly wages.

The February index was 188.6, three points below last November's 191.6. The index uses the average price level in the 1925-1939 period as a base of 100.

Unions representing 1,300,000 rail workers were partly responsible for the White House order reviving the old-style index.

Commies Broaden Scope Of Proposal For Prisoner Trade

Munsan (AP) — The Allies today accepted a broadened Communist proposal for exchanging sick and wounded prisoners of war which could lead to an armistice in Korea.

Under the Red proposal, the seriously sick and wounded would be returned to their homelands and those with minor ailments would be moved to a neutral country.

Rear Adm. John C. Daniel, chief of the Allied liaison team, accepted the offer at an 11-minute meeting today.

He said it was based on the condition that no prisoner be repatriated against his will.

After the Allied acceptance was given, the Communists asked for a 20-minute recess. Before that period had expired, they asked for a second 20-minute recess.

Under the Geneva Convention, prisoners likely to recover from their disability within a year may be sent to a neutral country instead of being returned to their homelands.

The Communists offered yesterday to broaden the scope of exchanging sick and wounded prisoners to include those with minor ailments.

Negotiations began Monday in a businesslike atmosphere inside the straw-thatched conference hut.

Rear Adm. Daniel put in a nine-point Allied plan to get the exchange started immediately. He said that within a week after agreement on procedure the U. N. Command would deliver the first 500 persons and maintain that rate daily.

The Reds were described by U. N. officers as "very objective."

Before today's meeting Poling radio disclosed the text of a Communist offer made by North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho, heading the Red liaison group.

The Red broadcast as heard in Tokyo quoted Lee as saying:

"Our side is prepared to repatriate all sick and injured prisoners of war held in our custody for the purpose of speedily and thoroughly settling this question."

Then Lee elaborated:

"That is to say our side is prepared to repatriate all sick and injured prisoners of war entitled to be directly repatriated or accommodated in a neutral country according to provisions of articles 109 and 110 of the 1949 Geneva Convention relative to prisoners of war."

This seemed to indicate that the Reds were willing to trade more POWs than the U. N. Command originally expected.

The Communists offered no clarification and neither did the U. N. Command give any immediate opinion on the Red move. The Reds hold about 12,000 Allied POWs while the U. N. has 132,000.

Adenauer Thanks American People For Aiding Reich

New York (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived in the U. S. yesterday with a message of thanks for the American people.

The U. S. has given Germany about 4 billion dollars worth of aid since World War II.

Though he will discuss the latest Soviet peace moves with President Eisenhower, Adenauer turned aside reporters' questions on the subject with a smile.

"On my return from Washington," he said, "I will be wiser than I am now and then I will answer all your questions."

On the subject of American generosity, however, he said:

"What seems especially important to me, this has convinced the German people that in the life of nations, force and egoism are not the only motive powers."

"In one way or another," Taft wrote, "there must be presented to the people the failures in the conduct of the Korean War itself—the lack of ammunition, the mis-handling of prisoners, armistice negotiations which enabled the Communists to build up a tremendously strong force and remedy all their deficiencies, and the outrageous dismissal of MacArthur because he thought that the only purpose of war was victory."

Soviets Oust Ignatiev From Security Post

Moscow (AP) — Semyon D. Ignatiev has been ousted from the five-man Secretariat of the Soviet Communist party for his alleged role in the "doctors' plot," Pravda announced today.

The official newspaper of the Communist party said Ignatiev had been "released from his duties."

Pravda disclosed yesterday that Ignatiev had headed the Ministry of Security during the time when the charges against the 15 doctors were being hatched.

The doctors were accused of murdering two Soviet leaders and plotting against others. Several of the accused doctors were Jewish. All have been exonerated and released.

It was originally charged that the alleged "doctors' plot" was a result of Zionist activity in the Soviet Union.

Pravda stressed today that any preaching of race hatred in the Soviet Union is punished by law.

Ignatiev was elevated to the party's Central Committee Secretariat in a reshuffle of party and government posts which followed Stalin's death.

Pravda denounced Ignatiev yesterday for "political blindness and gullibility," saying he had been taken in by one Ryumin. Ryumin was one of Ignatiev's former assistants. Pravda said it was Ryumin "who directly led to the investigation" of the doctors' case. Ryumin has been arrested.

Taft Calls For Probe Of HST Regime

Washington (AP) — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) called yesterday for a "thorough investigation of the Truman administration" to dramatize the political differences between Democratic and Republican government control.

The Senate's Republican leader said in an article in Look magazine that the Eisenhower administration isn't getting a break because, he contended, most Washington news writers and columnists "tend to be anti-Republican."

Taft said in an interview that his criticism was aimed primarily at news commentators and columnists, not at reporters handling straight news.

Taft proposed that a Senate committee be given the job of providing "factual material" to "publicize constantly the contrasts between the present administration and the Truman administration."

He said a thorough investigation of the Truman administration should bring out additional facts relating to corruption and publicize those which were brought out prior to the election, "usually by Democratic committees with Democratic chairmen."

"In one way or another," Taft wrote, "there must be presented to the people the failures in the conduct of the Korean War itself—the lack of ammunition, the mis-handling of prisoners, armistice negotiations which enabled the Communists to build up a tremendously strong force and remedy all their deficiencies, and the outrageous dismissal of MacArthur because he thought that the only purpose of war was victory."

Worth more... and why

There's an old saying that a thing is worth what someone is willing to pay for it. Well, if you could tour the wholesale and retail used car auctions around the country, if you could survey hundreds of used car lots you would discover that used Fords bring higher prices than any competitive make—and by substantial amounts.

THAT'S WHY we feel our '53 cars should not be compared with cars in the same price range. Not because our competitors don't do a good job—obviously they do—but because we feel Ford cars have more in common with the highest priced automobiles. The similarities are far greater than the differences.

For example, Today, the most expensive cars in this country have V-type, 8-cylinder engines. Ford Cars have had this exact same type of engine for over 20 years.

What's more astounding, the current Strato-Star V-8 sells for hundreds of dollars less than several other makers charge for a six-cylinder car. Now there's nothing wrong with a Six—but they do cost less to make. Ford makes a Six—the most modern overhead valve Six in the industry. And if it's a six-cylinder car you want, Ford has it and for less money than the V-8, which is as it should be.

What about ride? Here's another Ford similarity with high-priced cars... Riding Comfort. One of the misconceptions for many years has been that weight—sheer weight—is what it takes to make a car ride well. Ford has found that you can make a 3000-pound car ride softer and hold the road better by far than many cars that weigh a full 1000 pounds more. In the '53 Ford, for example, front end road shock has been reduced up to 80%. We say it compares most favorably with the heaviest cars sold today.

What about automatic transmissions? It would take the fingers of both hands to count the various kinds of automatic and semi-automatic transmissions on the market today. The one we offer is called Fordomatic. It is the most versatile on the market, it represents the most profound consideration of engine-to-wheel power transfer—and that it does the best job for our engines isn't even open to question. It "shifts" better than you could shift by hand.

What you can see is also important. Here again Ford Cars lead not only in their price field but in the medium and upper brackets as well. Ford visibility is Full-Circle Visibility. This means huge, curved unobstructed glass area, front and rear, plus side windows that allow all passengers what the hotels call "room with a view."

Appearance? A higher price, of course, does not make a car more beautiful. Conversely, beauty in a Ford comes "for free." Ford has found that it costs no more to develop a beautiful car than one that is less pleasing in appearance. You can drive up to the most exclusive doorways in the world and feel perfectly at home in your Ford. Fords "belong" . . . in exactly the same social category as the finest, one-of-kind creations. After all, a Ford is a custom creation multiplied.

What about running costs? Here's one place that Ford's advantages are obvious. For oil and gas economy Ford has the big cars whipped. Ford parts cost less. Ford service charges are less. Ford tire mileage is thousands of miles greater. And, Ford depreciation is the lowest of any car on the market—bar none.

What are Fords made of? Some people have the idea that the costliest cars are made of "better stuff." It's true that some high-priced cars have costlier upholstery and fittings. What Ford has is so good, both in durability and appearance, that you probably could not tell the difference. You might even prefer it, because of its better design and more pleasing appearance.

Then there's the question of sheet metal. If you were to measure and analyze the sheet metal structure in the most expensive car, you most likely would find it identical in thickness to the corresponding panels in Ford.

After all, then, what is the difference between a Ford and the costliest cars?

In our opinion, the difference is largely a matter of dimensions, weight (and the power required to move it) plus the distinction of owning a car that not so many other people own. The desire for these things is understandable . . . and probably justified for people who are willing to pay the price to satisfy it.

As to comparing Ford with other cars in its price range, by all means do so if you wish. But, as we said before, you'll get a better picture of Ford value by comparing with cars that are most like Fords—those that are priced up to twice as much. In fact, we think you'll quickly begin comparing the other cars with Ford—because the 1953 Ford has really established the New Standard of the American Road.

Cancer Society Conducts Porch-Light Solicitation Tonight

Fire Alarms To Signal Drive's Start

Fire alarms in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg will be heard tonight at 7—but not for a fire, unless by some quirk of fate one occurs at exactly that moment.

They will signal the start of the Monroe Chapter, American Cancer Society fund raising campaign. Workers start out when the alarms give their first blast.

This will be a porch light effort—a move to clean up the modest quota for cancer work here and research on a nation-wide scale.

If your porch light is on, a solicitor will call at your home and take your contribution.

Campaign workers are poised for stops at every home with a porch light.

The best "insurance policy" you can buy against cancer costs only a few dollars.

It's the price of a thorough check-up by your own physician. Your doctor may be able to find early "danger signals" which warn that cancer is present in your body. If he does, he'll find out for sure whether or not you have the disease.

If your checkups have been regular, your doctor will be able to find the cancer in its earliest stage. He'll be able to recommend treatment which—if it is performed fast enough—can save your life. This is one of the most important truths modern science has to offer you in connection with one of our most baffling diseases. Science knows that early cancer cells can be removed through treatment without damaging healthy cells.

Therefore, early detection has become the biggest single ally in the scientist's fight to save your life. Eventually he will be able to determine the cause of the disease, find ways to fight it through knowledge of how it begins.

But today your own sense is his point of departure. Without that checkup by your physician, you may not know about cancer in your own body until it is too late. Why not make a date with your doctor for a regular physical examination? Cancer strikes one out of every five persons.

CAR RESTS AGAINST tree stump after traveling several hundred feet off Route 611 yesterday afternoon, climbing a rocky ledge and traveling another 40 feet. Three occupants, all injured seriously, were a mother from Binghamton, N. Y., and her two daughters. Police are still seeking cause of crash. (Daily Record Photo)

Three Women Seriously Hurt When Auto Hits Tree Stump Some Distance Off Road

Swiftwater—Three women were injured seriously in a one-car accident here at 2:25 p.m. yesterday.

Mount Pocono State police last night still had been unable to determine the cause of the accident, in which a car simply had kept going in a straight line off Route 611 near the Old Heidelberg here.

The injured are: Adeline Bernice Scovil, 26, the driver; her sister, Georgina Scovil, 27; and her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Scovil, 64, who was riding in the back seat, all of Binghamton, N. Y.

The three Scovils were driving south on the way to Philadelphia, according to a marked map police found in their vehicle.

There was a witness to the crash: Michael Soprano, Bloomsfield, N. J., who told police he was following behind the Scovil auto. It was not exceeding the 50-mile speed limit, Soprano said.

Near the restaurant, the car veered off on the shoulder of the road. Police said it went on in a straight line for about 200 feet, then went between two trees spaced about 10 feet apart.

The vehicle climbed a rocky ledge about three feet high and continued on for another 40 feet. There it hit a tree stump and came to a halt.

Dr. E. O. Headrick, Mount Pocono, gave first aid at the scene. A passing nurse from Tobyhanna—a "Mrs. Wiley"—stopped to assist, police said. She took one of the injured to the General Hospital in East Stroudsburg in her car. The others were taken by ambulance.

The three last night were listed as in "fair condition." They were too ill to be interviewed, and police said they have not yet been able to learn why the car went off the road.

Four Testify In Favor Of Duplicator

Four persons testified yesterday at an hour-long hearing concerned over the county's possible purchase of photo-duplicating machinery.

The hearing was before President Judge Fred W. Davis in the morning. Judge Davis earlier had been petitioned by both county commissioners and Recorder Floyd Butz for approval of the use of such a machine in the recorder's office.

The machine has been on trial in the recorder's office for more than four months.

Details of the machine's operation and the laboratory methods of developing and printing, and materials used throughout the processing, were explained by Hendricks Ten Eyke, vice president of the Hall-McChesney Co., maker of the machine which is "on trial" at the recorder's office.

He testified the entire process complies with archival standards of the National Bureau of Standards, a branch of the Department of Commerce.

Butz testified to the advantages of the machine's use in his office.

He has pointed out in the past that such a machine substantially reduces costs of operating the office, allows quicker service, easier storage, swifter duplication for certified copies, and provides a safety factor in case courthouse records should be destroyed.

Commissioner Amzi F. Altomose testified in behalf of commissioners that the board was ready to purchase the machine, subject to court approval.

James Kitson testified that the County Bar Association had studied the machine method and the products and records it turns out and had approved a recommendation that the machine be purchased.

Ten Eyke also showed the court a reader, and demonstrated how it could be used to read the film itself.

Five Persons Suffer Injuries In Crash Involving Five Cars

Ross Common—Five vehicles were involved in Sunday night's crash here and five persons injured—three seriously—police said yesterday.

The accident was the worst in Monroe County for more than a year, from the point of view of number of cars and number of injured.

The injured:

Stanley Zukowski, 31, Easton, skull cuts and possible internal injuries.

Zukowski's wife, Mildred, 23, fractured spine and deep scalp and ear cuts.

Charles Jeppesen Jr., 21, Hamden, Conn., crushed chest.

Joan Pometcher, New Haven, Conn., bruises on the body.

Albert Franzini, 21, Plainville, Conn., mouth cuts.

Franzini was treated at the scene by Dr. John Turzilo, Pen Argyl. All the others were taken to Easton Hospital for treatment.

The accident on Route 12 occurred about 9:15 p.m. on the curve in front of Ross Common Manor.

Brookheadville State police pieced the story together like this:

Zukowski was going south. He pulled out to pass a truck driven by Sam Riccielli Jr., 39, Bernhards Bay, N. Y.

Ricelli figured a collision was about to take place with an oncoming vehicle. To avoid it he drove off the road on the right hand side.

Zukowski's car sideswiped the north-bound car of Alex M. Kresge, 58, Kingston, Pa., then rebounded and collided with a south-bound truck operated by Frank P. Anuso, 34, Bethlehem.

The Kresge vehicle, after being struck, went on to collide with the auto of Charles Jeppesen.

It took hours to tow the wrecked autos away.

Damages were estimated as: $1,200 to the demolished Zukowski car; $550 to the Kresge auto; $1,100 to the wrecked Jeppesen vehicle; and $100 to the Anuso truck. Total: $2,950.

Girl Injured In Accident On Route 115

Fern Ridge—A girl was injured when a car went off Route 115 near here at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, police reported yesterday.

Driver was Byrd Zakaszewski, Manville, N. J., who was going north at the time, according to Mount Pocono State policemen. His car swerved off on the right and went into a ditch.

Miss Rosemary Strazewski, also of Manville, suffered cuts on the right side of the forehead. She was taken to Veterans Hospital, Wilkes-Barre, by a passing motorist.

A MUST Investment

The inaugural of the YMCA Campaign Building Fund campaign last night opened the door to citizens of Monroe County to invest in their own future.

An enlarged, modern YMCA for young people—both boys and girls—is actually and investment in America's future. Such a concentration of modern facilities for youth, is a basic need of any American Community.

Present YMCA has some facilities. None of them are adequate and some sections of the building do not—as any individual can see—provide the bright, cheery, uplifting atmosphere so essential in dealing with youth.

Contributions to this vital need can be made on a three-year basis. People of Monroe County cannot afford to miss this investment in youth.

We'll Compromise

The bill proposed in the Legislature several days ago to outlaw "nude or nearly nude mannequins" from store displays will, we are confident, meet hostility in male circles.

We always have favored 'nude or nearly nude' mannequins, not because an unclad store dummy is a particularly racy spectacle, but because it is so lacking in sales appeal.

The mannequins we object to are the fully clothed ones wearing, let us say, a "perfectly adorable summer cotton"—and only $18.95."

Rep. James P. Moran of Turtle Creek, Pa., who introduced the bill says he believes disrobed dummies may inspire carnal urges in the less stable elements of our populace.

We want to be reasonable and public spirited about this thing. We must first hasten to assure Rep. Moran that we will hastily avert our eyes from any naked store dummies, if the women will promise not to look at the ones wearing clothes.

Such an understanding should prove a great service to the nude or nearly nude bank accounts of husbands everywhere.

Make Your Investment

Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce membership campaign has reached the 200 mark in old and new membership units.

A report meeting yesterday produced 90 old and new units, all at $10 each. Considerable optimism prevailed among the campaigners, H. G. Sanborn, Jr., campaign chairman and Dale H. Larn, president of the Chamber.

Between now and next Monday—the final report meeting—teams will seek to wind up their contacts on prospects to bring the membership fund up to working efficiency.

No prospect can afford to turn down a membership. Four new industries have been signed up to come here. They were obtained by Industrial Committee of the Chamber.

Membership finances are what makes possible the work of the industrial committee. Chamber of Commerce memberships are thus one of the soundest investments you can find here.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Speaking Of "Voices"

Stop worrying, folks, for a few minutes over the Voice of America reaching the people of other nations and get this: So far as the airwaves are concerned, there isn't any real voice of America reaching Americans. Believe it or not, telecasts and broadcasts of situations of vital concern to every man and woman in the United States are being limited to brief interludes and shoved off abruptly in their most dramatically informative moments by jockey programs, fashion shows, comedians, westerns and talks on how to bake a cake!

With every mother, father, sister, brother and sweetheart of servicemen deeply interested in the question whether our men in Korea have been and are still short of ammunition, and with a top commander testifying before a Senate Committee the other day so that the country might get the truth, video and radio knocked him off the air after a brief coverage "in order to resume our regular programs." A two-year commander of the forces in Korea was interrupted in his answer to an all-important question, conceivably bearing on the survival of America, by a jingle! Plugs for soaps, floor waxes, toothpastes, cigarettes and detergents were the only replies the listening public got to the committee chairman's "Now then, General, if the enemy had then sustained all-out attack on us, would we have had enough ammunition to defeat it?"

Millions of listeners must have felt an impulse to scream, tear their hair and leap from their chairs crying, "Oh no!" at the interruption. They realized, of course, that the airwave people are in business for money and have to get a return from their regular clients, but it flabbergasted them even now that no airwave outlet, no private organization, no government agency and no public-spirited group apparently thinks it of high importance to give more than a fleeting airwave glimpse of such inquiries. A way was found to keep the Ke-fauver crime inquiry on the video all day for weeks. How come an investigation into the safety of G. I.'s in Korea, and American preparedness for war, can get only "quickie" coverage while the affairs of the Costellos, Morans, Ericksons and Adonises can stay on the video screen for two weeks? It is only a slight exaggeration to picture one of these vital important inquiries as follows:

Q—Now, General, you have said there was a serious shortage of ammunition in Korea. Will you go into this in detail?

General: Yes. This is a most vital matter and I am glad to answer...

Q—Thanks, General. And is there anything to a rumor some of our tanks were shipped to Korea with no treads on?

General: I am glad you asked that question. Here is my answer...

Q—Ladies and gentlemen, this is the Armed Services Inquiry into munitions shortages in Korea. This program comes to you as a public service. It is now 11:30.

Q—I think that a very candid reply, General. Now suppose the Chinese were capable of a sustained drive, would our men be able to stop it?

General: The situation is like this, sir...

Voice: And now ladies and gentlemen, we return to our scheduled programs. Stand by for Kitchen Kapers, Strike It Rich and Bride & Groom. And remember this afternoon to tune into Hawkins Falls, Oh, Baby and Kate Smith.

In agreeing to Dag Hammarskjöld of Sweden as new Secretary General of U. N., would you say the Kremlin was hoping for all rights including the Scandinavian?

Mr. Hammarskjöld's hobby is mountain climbing and he is head of the Swedish Alpine Association...

This should fit him for proper performance in the U. N. world of snow and ice and enables him to open sessions with a cherry "Excelsior!" possibly entering the sessions with a couple of St. Bernards...

A Columbia lecturer has been fired following evidence that she offered to prove U. S. soldiers guilty of the foul crime of germ warfare, thereby aiding the Moscow line...

We hope that any proper solution to New York's subway problem will have "the taste Quill can't kill."

Arthur Godfrey is taking his entire troupe to Florida...

Two weeks down there will disabuse them of the idea a good salary will go very far...

The new Postmaster General is taking a survey of the post-office service in New York and if he runs across a letter we mailed from a point 35 miles away a week ago and which hasn't reached its destination yet, we will appreciate a word on it.

ANYTHING ELSE IN THE HAT?

Robert S. Allen Reports

Ike Will Ask Congress To Let Industry In A-Field

Washington—President Eisenhower will ask Congress to allow private industry to enter the field of atomic power.

He will propose that the Atomic Energy Act be changed for that purpose.

The President's action will be based on a recommendation of the Atomic Energy Commission.

It has formally advised him that the law should be rewritten to permit private enterprise to engage in atomic power production, now reserved entirely for the government.

The Commission made its as yet-announced recommendation under a provision of the Atomic Energy Act.

This directs that when the development of atomic power reaches the point where it appears commercially feasible, the Commission shall counsel the President on whether the government's monopoly should be continued or that it be modified to permit the participation of private business.

The Commission has recommended that the Atomic Energy Act be revised in two major respects:

Change the existing basic atomic policy of an all-inclusive government monopoly to one in accord with the traditional American system of free enterprise.

Authorize the Commission to sell uranium directly to private corporations for the construction of plants that will produce atomic power.

Big Stakes—The Commission, in its report to the President, estimates the cost of privately-financed "power reactors" as between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 each.

The commission also states that nuclear energy can be produced at from 8 to 19 mills per kilowatt hour, as compared to a national average of 5 to 8 mills by steam and hydro-electric plants.

However, the Commission points out that at the present stage of atomic power development only 10 per cent of the possible energy is produced from one pound of uranium. Currently, one pound of uranium is capable of producing heat equal to that obtainable from 2,500,000 tons of coal. But the efficiency of power reactors is being constantly increased, and when it reaches 40 per cent then the cost of nuclear energy will be less than that of conventional power.

The Commission's report to the President is based on proposals made by a number of leading industries and utilities which were consulted on the matter. They include Monsanto Chemical, Dow Chemical, Commonwealth Edison, Union Electric Company of Missouri, and Detroit Edison.

The President will send his momentous recommendations to Congress in a special message later this month.

The Peace-Makers—It was the three top leaders of Congress who have no direct connection with the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, who actually settled that three-months deadlock over its chairmanship.

The backstage peace-makers were Speaker Joe Martin (R-Mass), Democratic Floor Leader Sam Rayburn, Tex., and Senate Republican Leader Robert Taft.

The two House chiefs took the initiative. Disturbed by the prolonged stalemate between Representative W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) and Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Ia.), with resulting stoppage of all legislation pending before the Committee, Martin and Rayburn put their heads together and decided to appeal to Taft.

They bluntly told him the House should be given a turn at holding this powerful chairmanship.

"When the Committee was set up in 1947," Martin delayed "everyone was in agreement that the chairmanship should rotate between the two chambers. There was no argument about that. But as long as Erlen McMahon (late Democratic Senator from Connecticut and author of the Atomic Energy Act) was chairman, the House did not raise the issue of rotation. But it's different now. The House is entitled to this place, and Sam and I feel it's time the leadership stepped in and settled this matter once and for all."

"I'm backing Joe 100 per cent on that," Rayburn said. "I'll tell you what I have told him, the Democrats will vote as a solid bloc against Hickenlooper for chairman. We haven't got anything against him personally; it's just that we feel this is the time to stand pat and make a record on the question of rotation of this chairmanship."

"I think there is a lot in what you say," agreed Taft. "I'll take it up with our people and see if we can't straighten this out in a satisfactory manner."

The Ohioan made good his word. Several days later, Hickenlooper proposed another meeting of the Committee and this time he, himself moved that Cole be made chairman.

Flashes—During March, more than 33,000 refugees entered West Germany from Red-controlled areas...

The Agriculture Department is buying so much butter under the price support program that officials aren't sure exactly how much of the commodity is now owned by the government. The latest figure, as of April 1, was in excess of 131,000,000 pounds...

George Sokolsky Says...

Burmese Expect United States To Force Withdrawal of Chinese Guerilla Fighters

Burma is a country that lies southwest of China and is a gateway into the sub-continent of Asia. On the Yunnan-Burma border are a number of aboriginal peoples of various Indo-Chinese origins.

Since 1926 a part of British India, Burma on January 4, 1948 was recognized as a separate state by Great Britain. It did not become a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations, preferring to stand alone. It is, however, a member of the United Nations.

Since it became independent, Burma has been beset by the usual effort of the Communists to infiltrate the country, producing considerable disorder. There have been a number of rebellious groups, the Karens, the White Flag Communists, the Red Flag Communists, Army Mutineers, dissident elements in the People's Volunteer Organization and a Nationalist Chinese guerrilla band that moved into Burma from the province of Yunnan and has been fighting both the Burmese and the Chinese Communists since then.

Burma recognized Soviet China in December, 1949. The Burmese have received financial aid from the British Commonwealth and from the United States. From the very start, however, the new nation has been deeply influenced by Marxism. For instance, its first prime minister, Thakin Nu, on May 26, 1948, formed a new party which set up a straight Marxist program. Since 1948, a strong anti-American and anti-British sentiment has expressed itself, not as much in the government as among masses of the people.

The presence of the Nationalist Chinese guerrillas in Burma on the Yunnan border has been a factor of disturbance, particularly as the Burmese prefer to be on friendly terms with Mao Tze-tung's government. In many parts of Asia, it is believed that Russia and her great Asiatic satellite, Soviet China, will eventually triumph, that Russia will count noses between those who favored Soviet China and those who were opposed, and these could prefer to play it safe.

Therefore, the Burmese, would like the Nationalist Chinese guerrillas withdrawn. They have no way of dealing with Chiang Kai-shek on the subject. Actually, his guerrillas have done considerable fighting there.

What happens is that the guerrillas fight to invade China, move in a distance, are driven back into Burma. The Burmese try to prevent them from coming; the guerrillas get their arms and munitions, reform, go back across the border for some more fighting. This is excellent guerrilla tactics, keeping a Chinese Communist force pinned down on the border.

It probably will never be proved how these Chinese Nationalist guerrillas recruit their forces. Over the past four years, there must have been numerous casualties; yet the guerrillas have increased their numbers. It is probably that many Chinese living in Yunnan and in Burma have joined them. It is also possible that many Chinese from Formosa have made their way to this front. The Burmese expected the government of the United States to force Chiang Kai-shek to withdraw some such pressure on Chiang, is committed to the use of guerrillas on every entrance into China, if he can find a way of putting them there and using them. He will fight his guerrilla war against Soviet China as best he can.

Meanwhile the Burmese have come up with the extraordinarily novel idea that they will reject American financial assistance because the United States has failed to get Chiang's guerrillas out of Burma. This may sound like a new wrinkle in the United States, but many countries believe that they do us a favor by taking our aid. They believe that if they do not take our money, unemployment will increase in this country. It might be advantageous to let them have their way.

The Burmese are also citing Formosa as an aggressor in this situation. Chiang could, with good Oriental reasoning, establish that his government has no direction over these particular guerrillas, as they are Chinese who got stuck where they are by the course of events.

I know the kind of Chinese who compose these guerrilla bands. If Chiang interfered with their love of country and a good fight, they would repudiate him. They are the stuff that made the Yunnanese armies so effective in the civil wars of China. They are a powerful breed of men, mountaineers, who fight for their own soil.

Don't know when I've enjoyed a program more than Sterling Strauser's talk on Gatto last night or done a poorer job of reporting it. You see, the secret of having a relaxed and happy audience is to give a highly informal, conversational talk, spiced with uncontrived humor. But it's practically impossible to capture the essence of a talk like that.

It's bound to sound stilted, though as Gatto remarked when one critic said that he had found just one of his paintings "stilted," "I knew that bridge was crooked all the time."

You see what happens, when you try to tell it? You should have been there to see the "Ape Man Newspaper," the feeding of the five thousand which Gatto called "Master, What Shall We Do with the Leftover Bread?" or his "Peaceful Kingdom."

And even more to hear Mr. Strauser's side remarks on each one. Still thinking of that one story that went with Gatto's only painting of the Water Gap. Put a pond in the foreground and himself fishing in it. It was what happened to the fish afterward that made such gruesome telling.

You should have seen the miniature of the sea picture about which the critics waxed hysterical in their enthusiasm. It was a bottom-of-the-sea thing — and Mr. Strauser was the one who noticed among all the sea forms, the fact that he had his lobsters already boiled.

Anyway, that's one program I wouldn't mind sitting through again.

After he had opened his many gifts, cake and ice cream were served.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Schladler and daughter, Edie, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kresge and Mary Anne, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fish and son George, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kresge and family, Mrs. Lucy Rowe and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard and daughter, Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Metzgar and daughter, Kathy, Harry and Earl Kresge, and the guest of honor, and his wife.

All but two of the twelve children were home for the celebration. Missing were Mrs. Elsie Bower, who lives in New Jersey, and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Kresge who came on Sunday to honor Mr. Kresge. Those who were able to be present also joined them for Easter Sunday visit.

St. John's Reception Of 47 Members

Last night a large group of members from St. John's that filled the church school room, welcomed the forty-seven new members who had been received into fellowship with St. John's since Easter 1952.

Elston Arnt was master-of-ceremonies and extended a cordial welcome.

Mrs. Clarence Weiss presented the program which was given as follows: a trio, Misses Sandra Boich, Martha Yost and Ruth Fetherman sang "A Morn in Spring" and "The Little Wren." Master Russell Schaller sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Parke Kunkle and Alice Yost presented humorous readings. There was also a duet by Susan Buck and Judy Rupert "Peter Cottontail."

T. J. Mayer and Mrs. Jos. W. Barnes sang "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," while Mrs. Barnes sang "Who'll Buy My Lavender?" The final number was a series of three sung by a male quartet consisting of T. J. Meyer, Edward Yost, Nevin Buck and Richard Lindroth. The accompanists for the musical program were Miss Ruth Fetherman and Richard Lindroth.

The various officers of the several groups were introduced and told briefly of the work being done by the society. The program was in charge of the Altar Guild, while refreshments were served by the Fidelia Club of the church school of which Mrs. Miles C. Green is teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Redge Flanagan

Lorraine Sincok Is Easter Bride Of Redge Flanagan

Miss Lorraine Ann Sincok, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sincok, of 175 Spring St., East Stroudsburg, was married on Easter Sunday afternoon at 2 to Redge H. Flanagan, of 388 Braeside Ave., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Flanagan, of East Stroudsburg.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton performed the ceremony in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church where Easter lilies, and purple tulips formed the background for the wedding party. All of the wedding party including the musicians were former schoolmates of the bride and bridegroom.

Charlotte Herman was organist, Charlotte Bach, of Mount Bethel, was soloist. She sang "Because," "Thine Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Catherine Jane Sincok, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Jane Stackhouse of 1666 West Main Street, Stroudsburg, and Jo Ann Wallace, of North Courtland Street, East Stroudsburg. Cindy Weiss, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Roger Sluter, of 521 North Courtland Street, was best man, when Mrs. Walter Caulfield reported that three new babies and nine return visits had been made at the East Stroudsburg Well Baby Clinic during March and five new babies and 20 returned to the Stroudsburg clinic.

Mrs. Parke W. Kunkle reported on the program for the meeting on April 13. The resignation of Miss Ruth G. Pipher was accepted, and $10 was voted to the Monroe Planned Parenthood Association.

Present for the meeting were: Mrs. Eugene Martin, Mrs. Harold Eaton, Mrs. Claude D. Cramer, Mrs. Parke Kunkle, Mrs. A. A. Holbrook, Mrs. Grant Nittrouer, Mrs. Paul Lloyd, Miss Miriam Lark, Mrs. James R. Gavin, Mrs. Oram P. Hoffman and Mrs. Alford Meyers.

The maid-of-honor wore a gown of blue with a broad bodice with Peter Pan collar and a full net skirt. Her flowers were pink carnations with purple iris. The bridesmaids' gowns, similar in style to the maid-of-honor, were in yellow and green and their flowers were pink roses.

The flower girl wore a blue tulle gown trimmed with pink flowers and carried pink sweet peas.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue nylon lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of red carnations. The bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Earl Weiss, wore a light blue suit with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was held at the Elks Club. A three-tier wedding cake and flowered centerpiece marked the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Flanagan are now on a tour of Washington, D. C. Virginia and points south. For traveling the bride wore a gray gabardine suit with red accessories.

On their return they will make their home in a newly furnished apartment at 135 Elizabeth St., East Stroudsburg.

They are both graduates of East Stroudsburg High School. The bride was graduated in 1952, and is employed at the Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Flanagan was graduated in 1950 and is co-owner of Twin City Body Works.

Sterling Strauser Tells Of Gatto At AAUW Art Meeting

"Cavemen painted by a cave man," was the way Sterling Strauser last night described one of the pictures he exhibited by Vincent John Gatto, whose primitives have been one of the major sensations in the art world.

Mr. Strauser was speaking at the meeting of the American Association of University Women and their guests at the Stroud Community House. An artist in his own right, with paintings which won recognition in New York galleries, Mr. Strauser spoke from his personal experiences with Gatto, illustrating his points with original Gattos which he owns.

This feeling of painting the world as it was when it was new "when coal was being made" was characteristic of many of the paintings he showed. Strauser first met Gatto when he tried to buy a painting by mail from him after reading of the ex-prize fighter turned painter. He not only got paintings but Gatto, himself, as a visitor, who has continued to come to the county on frequent occasions.

Knowing nothing at all about art, Strauser still feels that Gatto has a genius for painting "As long as you keep the coffee perking, he'll keep painting," he said telling of the circumstances under which some of the paintings were done in the Strauser basement.

Jungles, lions who take on the expression of Gatto's varying moods, circus scenes, knights in armor, religious scenes were among the examples of Gatto's work which he showed.

Gatto's vigor and sheer determination can even make a horizon recede in spite of that violating all the rules of painting, Strauser said.

Gatto's use of words is similarly forceful, he said, revealing such malapropisms as "Malted Miliner" for multimillionaire, and his "cannonball" scene for cannibal scene. But speaking of his hike from Stroudsburg to Scranton on his 50th birthday, Gatto could also coin such a descriptive word as "shoe-bite" for the way he felt.

His audience was an enthusiastic one and stayed to examine the paintings more closely. Mr. Strauser was introduced by Mrs. Robert Hartman, fine arts chairman.

Dr. Veva Dean presided at the business meeting when letters of appreciation for the success of the recent School for Parents were read, and plans made, to entertain a fellowship grant student at the April meeting, and for the closing supper meeting in May.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

It seems to me that at long last I've solved the problem of keeping my hair short, yet under control. But oh, what a time learning! Like most women who snip off an inch of hair as fast as it grows, I've found that my permanents disappear all too soon from the neckline and around the face where I have a semi-bang. At first I attempted to control matters with a permanent every four months . . . but it didn't work. Now there's a better plan, thanks to Mr. Ainspach of our beauty salon.

Instead of three permanents a year, I have two, and two half-permanents. Along in July and December, or thereabouts, my head is given the all-over curling that is always such a joy. Then, in early April and late September I have the touchup sessions that take care of the bangs and neckline that are constantly being trimmed. This last time I delayed a bit longer than desirable, but it wasn't the idea that was at fault, it was the timing. I mention it simply as a suggestion to those women who say, "I love short hair . . . but if you cut your hair all the time it's impossible to keep a permanent."

It seems to me that a new permanent is as much a part of spring as the tulips, robins, and Easter bunny. And the wise woman is the one who budgets with an eye to "blowing her top" on occasion to a new wave and a dashing new bonnet.

That bonnet reference reminds me of the new Hiawatha hats being made by our store girls and discussed at the daily coffee klatches in the lounge. Betty Frantz introduced the subject the other morning, by displaying a hat frame purchased for $1 in our yarn department. These frames, in five styles, can be crocheted in any of several yarn or straw fibers. There's Loften, for instance at 59c a hat; Corde at $1.25, and Straw-Glo, which is highlighted by a metallic thread, at 95c. This fashion note not only goes to one's head, it goes to the purse—both as an actual saving and an accessory. The matching bags are very chic, and so are matching belts. Yes indeed, as a style point Hiawatha's idea should DEFINITELY "go to waist." . . . Dottie Morris tells me that most customers express curiosity about the bamboo shopping baskets that sell in her department for $1.69. These baskets are a cute shape when carried, but, once unfastened, collapse completely for easy storage. "I saw the very same thing in New York priced at $3.98," Dottie tells us, and I haven't a doubt that she did. They are smart and unique, and some people will pay anything to have the jump on their neighbors. Our price seems just about right, as Wyckoff prices usually do . . . Elsie Miller shows me her new shipment of Walking Dolls from Germany. These are $1.25 as before, and a lot of fun for grownups as well as the kiddies. We also have a fine new assortment of Hubley toys—hook and ladder, farm sets, log trucks, auto transporters, and an all-metal Bell Telephone service truck . . . And I wonder if you've seen Israel's contribution to the nursery? Safe, washable, and well made, there are horses, elephants, dogs and camels in a stiff oilcloth-type material that seems to be heavily plastic coated. From Tel-Aviv, these are something the tin tykes will love.

Private Duty Nurses Will Sponsor Dance

A dance at the Penn-Stroud Hotel Friday night, beginning at 9, has been scheduled by the newly organized Private Duty Nurses Association of Monroe County.

Mrs. Elizabeth Eshback, president, explained the organization was formed in an effort to aid Monroe County General Hospital in its plea for more nurses.

With 28 members in the group Mrs. Eshback said the current program is aimed at securing one nurse each day for the hospital, to relieve general-duty nurses who are ill or on vacation.

The association also expects to promote special education for inactive nurses, granting refresher courses possibly at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in the near future.

In their fund-raising campaign the organization already has conducted a card party and Friday's dance is expected to raise funds for the promotion of refresher courses. The Alteri Brothers orchestra will provide music for the affair. Committee in charge includes Kay Thurston, chairman; Rebecca Altomero, Irene Barton and Sue Edinger.

Other officers of the group include Betty Leitner, vice president and treasurer, and Mary Buzell, secretary.

Nurses desiring to take the refresher course may contact Mrs. Eshback (phone 2188-R) or any other officer.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Reeders, after a tough season in 1952, is working hard to have a successful entry in the Pocono Mountains League this year. Reeders had 18 players out for practice on Sunday, among them was George Martin, veteran right handed pitcher. Martin has been out of baseball for two years because of a bad arm, but his early season work this year gives the Reeders management plenty of hope for a fine campaign. The Reeders club will practice every Sunday until the opening of the season next month.

Harold Freeman and Ray O'Melko, who had planned to play with Pocono A.C. during the coming Blue Mountain League, have switched to the Bushkill club, an annual entry in the Pocono Mountains League. O'Melko is a shortstop while Freeman is a combination outfielder-infielder. George Heinle, member of De-Vivo's Shoemans basketball team, is now working out with Pocono A.C. Jerry Muys, another member of Pocono A.C. and a student at Princeton, is scheduled to be married in June. Muys is a former football, baseball and basketball star at East Stroudsburg High.

It appears very doubtful at this time that the George N. Kemp American Legion Post will field a baseball team during the coming summer months. If the local Legion Post is to field a diamond organization, it will have to lick several major problems and will also require the help of many individuals in Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and surrounding areas. Pete Gorant, a junior at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was recently approved by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association to umpire baseball games between association schools.

Gorant worked in both the Blue Mountain and Pocono Mountains leagues during the 1952 baseball campaign. Alex Mustakis, former pitcher with the Boston Red Sox and first baseman for the Scranton softball team that opposed the Eagles at Stroudsburg Playground last summer, has signed to play with St. Stephen's Booster Club, of the Scranton Baseball Association, during the coming campaign. Many new members are being taken into the Glen Brook Country Club fold for the coming season. The local club may reach its largest membership under the present ownership this summer.

Coach George Ockershausen, coach of the ESSTC baseball squad, put his charges through a seven-hour drill session just prior to the Easter holidays. The squad now numbers 17 players. School resumes up on Normal Hill today and so does baseball practice. Speaking of Ockershausen brings to mind the fact that the popular baseball and wrestling mentor and assistant football coach has virtually completed work on his doctor's degree.

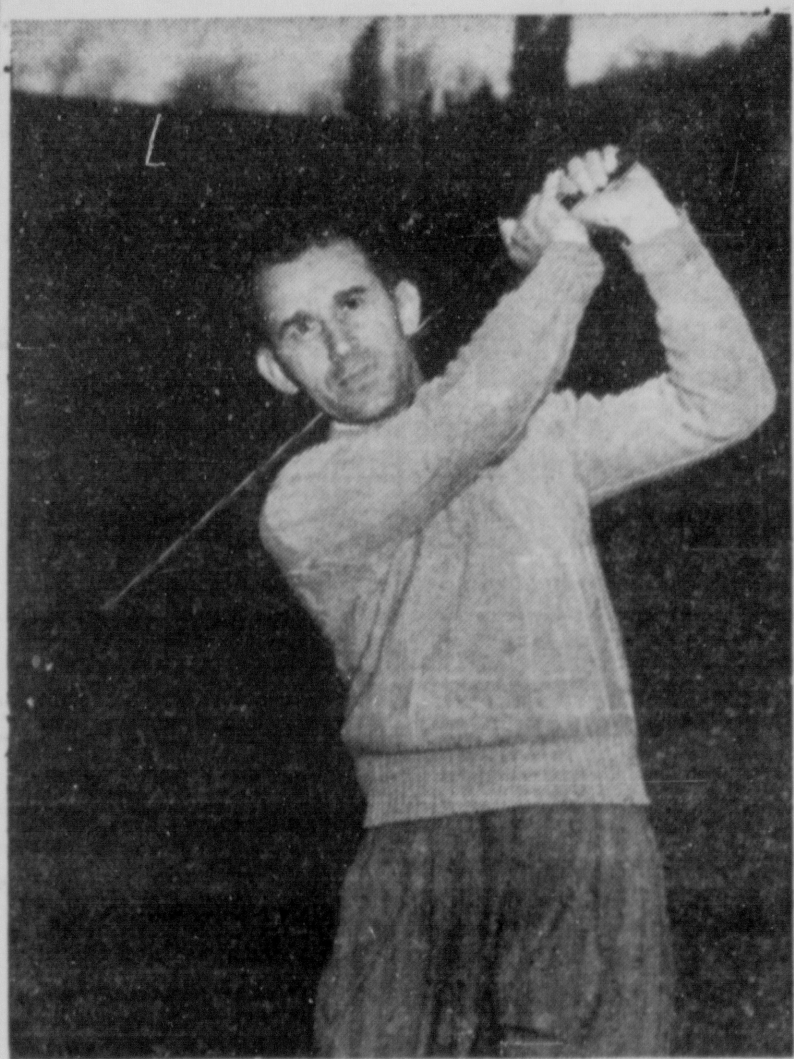

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College appears to have struck out as far as the major leagues are concerned this year. Harry Schaeffer seems to be on his way to Kansas City, after being left behind in Florida by the New York Yankees, and George Dries yesterday was sent to New Orleans by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Both southpaws pitched on the same ESSTC diamond organization in 1947 and both were caught by Harry Werkheiser, now basketball and baseball coach at Pocono High.

It is also odd that both Schaeffer and Dries are residents of the Reading area and that both worked at the same armored plant in Birdsboro, outside of Reading, during the past winter months. If Schaeffer goes to Kansas City, he'll be working in class "AAA" surroundings, while Dries will be in the Southern Association, a "A" setup. Ray Welsh, former basketball coach at ESSTC, and one of the top baseball and basketball authorities in the country, is currently hard at work at the Brunswick, Ga. training camp of the Pittsburgh farm clubs.

Among Ray's pupils are the O'Brien twins of Seattle baseball fame and Al Janowie, former Ohio State football star. The O'Briens are being made into infielders and Janowie is at catcher. All three are bonus players and will rejoin the parent club in the very near future. Welsh is a fulltime scout for the rebuilding Pirates, and is a resident of 1064 Drayer Ave., Stroudsburg. Is Bill Maiorillo being drilled for the 1956 Olympic gymnastic team? The freshman student at ESSTC, who is a resident of Bethlehem, was a member of the soccer and gym teams during the past campaigns.

Dick Pritchard, former ESSTC football and baseball star, and Bob "Lefty" Muhr, former Bangor pitcher, when the North Atlantic League was still in operation, are scheduled to play with Martins Creek, of the Blue Mountain League, during the coming baseball campaign. Both Pritchard and Muhr played with Roseto, also of the BML, during the last two campaigns. Alden "Red" Fetherman, in his last game with Scranton this spring, had one hit in one time at bat, scored a single run and made one putout in left field.

Gilliam To Open Campaign At Second Base Post For Dodgers

Indianapolis, Ind. (AP)—Manager Charlie Dressen announced last night as the Dodgers traveled eastward that Junior Gilliam, still on the Montreal roster, would open the season at second base for Brooklyn.

"His .239 batting average doesn't worry me," said Dressen. "I know he will hit better. He doesn't miss many balls. Not once has he struck out swinging."

Dressen also said that he was satisfied with Jackie Robinson's fielding at third, promising that he would get better.

Meanwhile Billy Cox, who lost his regular job because of the Robinson shift, is going back to Brooklyn today to see Dr. Herb Fette at Long Island College Hospital. Cox has been out of action for more than a week with a lame back. First baseman Gil Hodges and Wayne Belardi are already under Dr. Fette's care.

The Brooklyn manager also announced that Don Zimmer, who has been sensational at short and batting .348, would be farmed out.

Baseball Too Much For Aging Eyes Of Once Great Pitcher

Newcomerstown, O. (AP)—Baseball games are too much now for the eyes of one of the sport's greatest all-time pitchers—Cy Young.

At 86, the man whose 511 victories tops all performances in the majors says:

Mantle Almost Recovered From Rash

Birmingham, Ala. (AP)—Mickey Mantle is almost recovered from the rash ailment which struck him a week ago and probably will open in centerfield for the New York Yankees against Washington next Monday in Washington.

Manager Casey Stengel said yesterday he had received word that the young outfielder would rejoin the squad today in Nashville.

Mantle had returned home to Commerce, Okla., after being sidelined by the rash and a swelling of the glands under the arms.

Stengel said Scout Tom Greenwade, who had been sent to Commerce, to look into Mickey's condition, took the blame for Mantle's failure to join the team here. Casey didn't explain how Greenwade delayed the outfielder's return.

Rookie To Fill In For DiMaggio

Charlotte, N. C. (AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau announced yesterday that 21-year-old rookie Tom Umpflett will be the Boston Red Sox starting centerfielder when the American League baseball season opens next week.

Umpflett, still the property of the Sox' Louisville farm club, was called up to the Boston team 11 days ago when it was obvious that veteran Don DiMaggio's training would be delayed by his eye ailment.

Barons To Use Player Despite Protest

Cleveland (AP)—In spite of a protest by Pittsburgh, the Cleveland Barons announced last night that veteran Ehrhardt "Otto" Heller will play for them in the third American Hockey League playoff game.

Barons' General Manager Jim Hendy said Heller has been signed to take the place of Bob Bailey, the young center injured in Cleveland's 2-0 victory over Pittsburgh Saturday.

Complaint Pittsburgh, which meets the Barons at the Arena here tonight in the third of the four-out-of-seven series for the Calder Cup, complained that the Heller, 42, was ineligible.

However, Hendy said Emory Jones of St. Louis, league president, had disagreed with the Hornets and said this addition of a player during playoffs was legal.

Heller has been playing pro hockey for 24 seasons. This season he has been a playing coach at Cleveland's farm club at New Haven in the Eastern League.

Cleveland now leads in the playoffs, 1-0.

Thorpe Finds Pals In Death

Los Angeles (AP)—Jim Thorpe, who was almost forgotten in the last years of life, has a lot of friends in death.

Floral tributes piled up yesterday from all parts of the country and as far distant as the Norwegian Sports Association of Oslo; hundreds marched past his bier; telegrams and letters of condolence arrived from all over the world.

Big Jim, the greatest athlete of his time, died March 28. His body will be sent today to Shawnee, Okla., where funeral mass will be said April 13 and where a memorial is being erected to the memory of the town's favorite son.

Large Crowd

More than 2,500 viewed his body in a mortuary last week, many of them schoolchildren. By contrast, yesterday more than 500 mourners were on the elderly side, about three in four men of Jim's generation, many of them weeping unashamedly.

The stream was steady, starting at 6 a.m. despite a drizzle.

The first group yesterday was a delegation of 30 from an Indian reservation near Palm Springs. It was at Carlisle Indian School in Pennsylvania that the old warrior made his name in sports.

After last night's rosary, the body was to lie in state again until 10 p.m.

About 400 persons attended the rosary service, including many former associates of Thorpe's in baseball and the Olympic Games. Present were Jim Donahue and Alma Richards, fellow members of the 1912 Olympics team; Chief Meyers, catcher for the New York Giants when Thorpe was a member of the team; Vic "Choc" Kelley, who played with Thorpe on the Carlisle team; Suey Welch, a fellow member of the Canton, O., pro football team, and many sports leaders of the present generation.

Thorpe, 64, died in his modest trailer which had been his recent home at suburban Lomita. His widow, three daughters and four sons survive.

Rindone Takes Comeback Step

Boston. (AP) Veteran middleweight Joe Rindone, 163, Boston, took another step in his comeback campaign last night with an unanimous 10-round decision over Jackie Keough, 161, Cleveland, in the feature of a Callahan A. C. boxing show at the Arena.

Keough's sharp lefts opened up an old cut above Rindone's left eye in the first round. The gash bled freely, so that the Bostonian went to long range the rest of the bout to avoid having the cut reopened.

Relief Lemon gave the New Yorkers all 15 of their runs and 16 of their 18 hits before being removed in favor of rookie Ray Narleski with two out in the seventh inning.

Coan's Injury To Keep Fleet Outfielder Out Of Washington Lineup For At Least 30 Days

By Herb Altschull
Washington, (AP)—The Washington Senators got some cheering news yesterday. Doctors reported Gil Coan's injury is not as serious as it was thought at first. He'll probably be back in action within 30 days.

The injury to Coan was doubly painful to the Senators, for the fleet outfielder had been at the peak of his game this Spring, apparently ready for the stadium which always had seemed to elude him.

He was shelling exhibition game pitching at a championship rate—378. Even more encouraging to Manager "Bucky" Harris, however, was the zip Coan seemed to add to the club. Harris was calling his outfield of Coan, Jackie Jensen and Jim Busby the best in the majors.

Then Coan crashed into a fence at Charlotte, N. C., going after a fly hit by Johnny Temple of the Cincinnati Reds. He caught his spikes on the baseboard of the fence and something snapped.

At first doctors thought Coan's ankle was broken and said he'd be on the sidelines for two months.

But owner Clark Griffith reported yesterday, club physicians took a further look at the injured leg and decided Coan hadn't broken the ankle at all. Instead, he had fractured the tiny bone at the tip of the fibula of his right leg.

Coan's leg was put in a cast and he was sent to his home at Brevard, N. C., for a week.

But the signals got mixed up and Coan did not learn of the club's decision that he be sent home. So he took a plane to Washington.

Griffith decided that since he was here, he might as well have the cast removed and get a thorough examination from Dr. George A. Rester, the club's official physician.

Results of the examination were not available at once.

Whatever the results, much of Coan's future will rest with Gil himself.

The winning pro-am teams beat par by 14 strokes, three finishing with 57's.

Wall, although not the pro at Pocono Manor, has carried the name of the Monroe County resort during the winter pro golf grind.

Cards Down Ft. Worth, 7-5

Ft. Worth. (AP)—Stan Musial drove in three runs with a double and his seventh spring home run yesterday to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 7-5 victory over the Ft. Worth Cats.

Musial's two-run home run in the sixth inning made the difference. The Texas League club knocked Cliff Chambers out of the box with five runs in their half of the same inning.

Triple Play The Cardinals executed a triple play in the first inning of the game. After the first two Ft. Worth batters singled, Forrest Jacobs lined to first baseman Steve Biko who stepped on first base for a double play and then threw to shortstop Solly Henus to triple the leading runner off second.

Oklahoma Law Maker Asks For Return Of Thorpe's Medals

Washington, (AP)—An Oklahoman proposed yesterday that the Olympic medals the late Jim Thorpe won and then lost through official action be restored for display in a proposed Thorpe memorial building.

The proposed building would be located in the famous athlete's home town of Shawnee, Okla.

Rep. Steed (D-Okla.) whose home is Shawnee, told a reporter he will ask the other Oklahoma Congressmen to join him in a move to have the Amateur Athletic Union rescind the cancellation.

Cancelled The medals, awarded Thorpe in 1912 but cancelled on the grounds that he had played professional baseball briefly in Tennessee, would be turned over to the Thorpe Shrine Memorial Committee under Steed's plan.

Thorpe, who died recently in California, will be buried in Shawnee.

Steed said that a memorial association has been organized to raise about $100,000 for a memorial building there.

Wagner Gains Ring Verdict

Chicago. (AP)—Billy Wagner got off the floor in the seventh round and fought back to an unanimous decision victory over Bob Singleton last night in their eight-round lightweight feature at Rainbo Arena.

Slight Lead

The Pennsylvanian piled up a slight lead in early rounds and in the fifth had Singleton on the verge of a knockout. However, the South Bend slugger rallied in the sixth and floored Wagner for an eight-count in the seventh.

The last round was a bruising battle all the way with Wagner getting the best of it.

Exhibition Contest Set With Reeders

Pocono A. C., Monroe County's entry in the Blue Mountain Baseball League, will have a strictly local appearance if Manager Bill Frear has anything to say about it, the pilot announced yesterday.

While some of the players don't actually live in Monroe County, they are well known to area sports fans, Frear pointed out.

The players not living in Monroe County who will play with Pocono A. C. are athletes who have made their mark at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. This list includes such stalwarts as Bob Mellman, a jack of all trades; Hobbart "Hobe" Hutchins, a catcher, and Tom Foley, combination pitcher-first baseman.

There will be other college students on the club, but their names weren't known for certain yesterday.

Jack Newell and John Romanisky are battling for an infield position, as is Harold Hironimus, a catcher. All three are residents of Stroudsburg.

George Heinle, Harold Jacobson and Dave McMichael are currently scraping for positions. Jacobson is a pitcher and McMichael is listed as a first baseman.

Veterans

Bill Johnson, veteran catcher from Delaware Water Gap, is back for his second straight year, while Don Sweda and John Schoonover, veteran infielder and pitcher respectively, may also campaign with the local squad during the coming season.

Frear will undoubtedly hold down his usual second base post.

Jack Sommers, John "Juice" Arnt and Dick Merring, all of East Stroudsburg High, and Billy "Bump" Metzgar and Floyd "Willie" Williams, both of Stroudsburg High will hold down positions with Pocono A. C. when their respective high school seasons are completed.

Pocono A. C. is hopeful of playing all its home games at East Stroudsburg Playground this season, but as of midnight last night no official announcements along this line were released.

Members of the club are currently busily selling advertising for the scorecard, as a means of obtaining money with which to operate.

Pocono A. C. will tangle with Reeders in an exhibition contest on the latter's home field on Sunday, May 3. Both teams open their seasons the next Sunday. Pocono A. C. plays host to Johnsonville in the opening Blue Mountain League game.

Included in the Blue Mountain League this season are Roseto, Portland, Martins Creek, Tatamy, East Bangor, Johnsonville and Pocono A. C.

NEEDLESS BARKING

A DOG'S BARKING AT EVERY VISITOR IS A NUISANCE THAT CAN BE CORRECTED. SEVERELY SCOLDING, NO, NO, NO! AND SPANKING WITH A FOLDED NEWSPAPER WHEN A DOG BEGINS BARKING IS THE REMEDY. A DOZEN OR MORE LESSONS MAY BE NECESSARY FOR SOME DOGS.

CONTINUOUS BARKING IN YOUR ABSENCE IS CORRECTED BY PRETENDING DEPARTURE TO HIDE OUTSIDE, WHEN THE BARKING BEGINS RUSH IN AND SCOLD, "NO, NO, NO!" AND SQUART A WATER PISTOL IN DOG'S FACE AT THE SAME TIME. REPEAT LESSON UNTIL IT IS LEARNED. IF NOT CORRECTED, BARKING MIGHT COST A "PEACE DISTURBANCE" FINE.

Dodgers Happy As Meyer Continues To Control Temper Despite Riding From Bench Jockeys

Louisville, (AP)—The current mystery of the Brooklyn Dodgers is what happened to Russ Meyer's fuse?

Everybody's been waiting for the trigger-tempered pitcher from the Philadelphia Phillies to "blow his screws" as he puts it. But so far nothing has happened.

The problem rightlander who came to the Dodgers in one of the late winter trades has now spent 42 days in spring training without once tossing one of his famous tantrums.

He's had plenty of opportunities too—but instead of obeying the impulse he's tightened his jaw and just thrown a little more into his pitching.

Manager Charlie Dressen is pleased with the way Meyer has turned out. The young right-hander looked particularly impressive Sunday in his seven-inning stint against the Milwaukee Braves, a 3-1 winning performance at Nashville.

Calm

The Braves' bench jockeys were never in finer fettle as they rode Meyer unmercifully from the dugout. Meyer never let himself get flustered. He just grinned back.

This is the same stormy petrel who used to blow sky high on the slightest provocation.

Frequently after a game in which he was relieved, teammates would return to their dressing quarters to find everything in shambles—chairs and benches shattered, waste baskets broken, walls cracked and clothes strewn over the premises.

Nothing like that has happened so far at Brooklyn. Carrying out a pre-season pledge to devote all his energies to pitching, Meyer has been meek as a mouse. He hasn't had a run-in with a teammate or a member of the opposition. He hasn't baited an umpire.

Charles-Layne Referee Violates State Rule

San Francisco, (AP)—Referee Frankie Carter violated California boxing regulations when he agreed on the eight-round knock-down rule in the Ezzard Charles-Rex Layne fight, a state athletic commission official said yesterday.

Willie Ritchie, the commission's chief inspector for Northern California said that "under our rules Carter had no right to make that agreement" preliminary to the bruising battle in which Charles won a unanimous decision in a 10-round bout April 1.

Reversal

Ritchie's statement to a newspaper yesterday was a reversal of his opinion expressed after the fight, in which he told reporters Referee Carter could make the agreement.

In his instructions to the fighters, Carter said the rule in which the man knocked down must take the eight count applied to preliminary bouts.

Then it was agreed that the rule should be applied to the main event of the evening.

Chisox Blast Athletics, 9-3

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox blasted Carl Scheib in a seven-run third-inning outburst yesterday and then coasted to a 9-3 win over the Philadelphia Athletics.

All the A's runs resulted from a pair of homers by Allie Clark.

Two Markers

The Sox scored twice in the second on a single by Jim Rivera, a double by Chico Carreque and another single by pitcher Tommy Byrne.

The big Chicago third inning featured three walks by Scheib and Byrne's three-run homer.

Browns Buy Outfielder

St. Louis, (AP)—The St. Louis Browns yesterday bought outfielder Jim Fridley, 27, from the Cleveland Indians for the $10,000 waiver price.

Southpaw

Dries, a big southpaw hurler, formerly played baseball and basketball at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

George is a resident of Reading.

State Appropriations Do Not Reimburse Hospitals Fully For Charity Patient Care

Problems confronting the board of directors of Monroe County General Hospital in caring for charity patients were outlined yesterday by Harry Smith, superintendent.

During the past two years non-profit community hospitals in the state spent $25,301,488 more than state appropriations, Smith said. The average daily ward cost per patient has jumped over 28 per cent to an all-time high of $12.27 in the state.

At the General Hospital the figure is even higher—$13.28. But the actual state reimbursement has amounted to only $5.64 on a state-level and $4.15 here, Smith said.

Smith explained that part of the soaring costs of caring for needy patients has been due to inflation, although hospital employees' wages continue below the general industrial level, despite longer working hours.

An increment granted to one working group last June pushed expenses at the General Hospital higher than before, Smith said, and the new rate increases for private and semi-private rooms had to be placed in effect.

Another increment for personnel is anticipated in June, Smith added.

Modern scientific methods of treatment mean saving in lives and faster recoveries, but they also mean more expensive equipment, more costly drugs and medication, and more highly skilled personnel, Smith emphasized.

During the 1943-45 biennium the state assumed 62 percent of the cost of charity care. This left hospitals only $5,300,000 in the red for in-patient care, the report continues. The last session of the Legislature appropriated only enough money to pay 48 percent of that cost, and the hospitals lost an additional $6,703,086 treating needy persons in their dispensaries, Smith pointed out.

The hospitals are asking the Legislature to appropriate three cents additional per person per month, Smith said, contending that all the people of Pennsylvania should share the burden for caring for charity patients requiring care in hospitals.

In requesting a more adequate reimbursement for ward care of charity patients, the hospitals are seeking $8 per day toward meeting the average cost of $12.27, Smith said. Hospitals also are asking the Legislature to appropriate 50 cents per visit for care of charity patients in their dispensaries, and continued help in educating student nurses.

"None of the amounts will cover all the cost of providing essential service for the care of sick and injured people who are unable to pay for hospital services," Smith pointed out.

The services for which the non-profit hospitals are asking partial reimbursement by the state are not duplicated by the state or any other institution, he said. The state owns and operates only 10 small general hospitals for its 10,500,000

Engine Works Pact Accepted By Employees

Provisions of a new contract for union members of Stroudsburg Engine Works were outlined at the Central Labor Union Club last week, Emerson F. Stanton, business representative for the International Association of Machinists, A.F. of L. reported here last night.

Stanton said the meeting, attended by members of Local 1643, voted to accept the company's offer as terms of their next agreement. The new contract, Stanton said, goes into effect April 15 for one year.

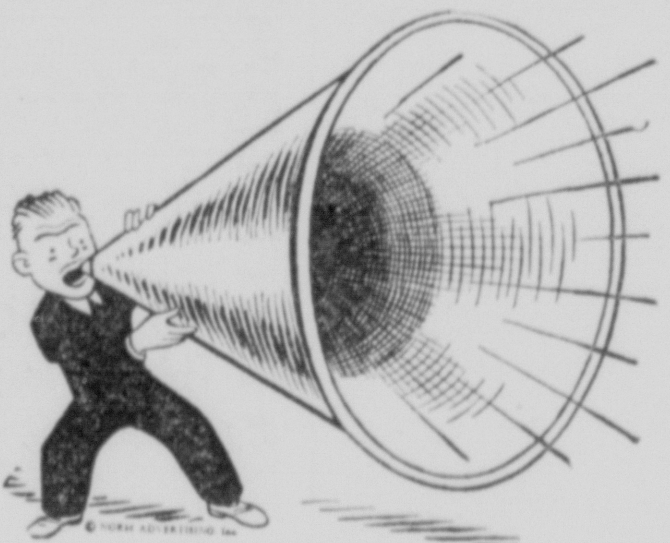

Listed by Stanton were the following terms:

A 6.7 percent across-the-board wage increase; six cents per hour shift differential for second and third shifts, and reduction in vacation requirements, granting two weeks vacation after three years employment. Stanton said in past weeks vacation after five years the policy was to give two service.

ROBIN HANEY and his pedigree puppy "Princess Pixie." Robin handed in the name which the judges selected as the best in the Wyckoff-Sears Department Store Puppy Naming Contest. Robin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Haney, Stroudsburg, R. D. 1.

SOMETHING TO SHOUT ABOUT

It happens "once in a lifetime." It isn't often that you get the opportunity to contribute to the building of a new YMCA building.

This is your chance to do something fine for your children . . . and for your neighbors' children. Give them the recreational facilities they need . . . a worthwhile place to go after school and in the evenings. Make your contribution generous . . . you'll be proud that you did.

A Special Message of Unusual Interest to all owners of Fine Cars

WHEN Packard announced its return to the fine car field a few months ago with a beautiful new line of automobiles, the news gave the American people for the first time in years "a new choice in fine cars."

And, overnight, people who want a certain set-apart distinction in the fine car they buy gave the new Packard priority in their fine-car shopping.

"Found only in a Packard"

This is a phrase familiar to Packard owners of many generations but never truer than today. Packard gives you the Big Important Three for today's high-powered engines and high-speed highways: power brakes, power steering and power shifting.

And Packard provides five big, comfortable inches more backseat leg-room than you'll find in any competitive car.

The whole world knows that Packard's famous engine is one of the great engines in automotive history—authoritative and dominating when power is paramount, but soft and smooth as a kitten's step otherwise.

A ride of discovery

If you plan to buy a fine car this year, you will enjoy a ride in the new Packard, and discover, in so doing, that a new and inspiring luster shines from a grand old name. Your dealer will be glad to put a Packard at your disposal anytime. We think you will be very glad indeed that you got in touch with him.

NEW! The Packard CLIPPER—another great Packard line. If you plan to buy a car in the medium-price class, be sure to see and drive the new Packard CLIPPER and compare it with other medium-priced cars. Surprisingly enough, the CLIPPER costs only a few hundred dollars more than cars in the lowest-price field.
